U. S. MARSHAL GARD ON HAND.

Full Particulars of the Dramatic Episode by the "Times" Special Correspondent—"A Happy as a King."

By Telegram and the Associated Press. VISALIA, Feb. 19.—(Special.) On Sunday Sheriff Kay received authoritative information that Evans and Morrell were in town. At 3 o'clock this morning the officers, with a large posse, surrounded the house of Evans and stayed there until 10:30 o'clock this forenoon, when the desperadoes voluntarily surrendered. Marshal Gard of Los Angeles arrived at 3 o'clock this morning and accompanied Sheriff Kay to the scene. At least fifty armed men surrounded the house by 8 o'clock, many of our most prominent citizens shouldering guns and standing guard. The formidable number undoubtedly decided Evans in his course. The bandits positively refused to be interviewed while in jail. They looked dirty and worn-out and Evans no doubt was anxious to get where he could have rest.

When Morrell saw the crowd he proposed to open fire and make a break for liberty, but Evans demurred to the action. Walter Beeson was sent into the house with a note to Mrs. Brighton, who takes care of Evans's children, requesting her to get out. Evans asked him how many men were there armed and Beeson said 100. This had its effect on Evans. The latter had been very abusive to those in the house with him since his arrival. It was all Mrs. Byrd, his mother-in-law, could do to keep Evans from shooting her son George, who Evans claimed had given him away. He knocked Mrs. Brighton down and kicked her unmercifully until she went into spasms, and for several hours today it is in a critical condition. Sheriff Scott of Fresno and several deputies arrived here at 7:40 o'clock this evening, and the bandits were put in a buggy and started for Goshen. Had the men been kept here over night there is no doubt that an effort would have been made to break out. Ten or twelve buggy-loads of men left town shortly after the bandits were taken from jail, but it is not known for what purpose.

The strain on our people has been strong today and there is a sense of relief now that the men are gone, and the hope is generally expressed that they may be landed in the State Prison immediately. Marshal Gard leaves for Los Angeles on the midnight train. He carries in his pocket a number of cartridges which he obtained from the train-robber. The Marshal has had pretty good knowledge of the whereabouts of the bandits ever since their escape from the Fresno jail and it is through his efforts, no doubt, that the trap was set for the capture. While Evans cursed the instrument used in his capture, he puts on a bold face and says he is as "happy as a king."

HOW IT HAPPENED. An Associated Press Account of the Arrest.

VISALIA, Feb. 19.—Chris Evans, the train-robber and outlaw, who escaped from Fresno jail a few days ago, was captured today. It was discovered last night that he had come to Visalia from the mountains with his partner, Edward Morrell, who assisted him to escape from Fresno jail, and that the two men were hidden in Evans's house here. The officers surrounded the house early this morning, and a few hours later practically all the inhabitants of the town were present. Evans recognized the fact that escape was impossible, and, after brief negotiations with Sheriff Kay of this county, he and Morrell surrendered.

Evans and Morrell arrived in town on Saturday night on foot, having left a horse and cart tied to the fence at the ranch of Elijah Perkins, near Stone Corral. Sheriff Kay was informed that they were here yesterday, and the house was guarded by a large, armed posse of night. United States Marshal Gard is credited with working up the matter, having in his employ a man named Brighton, who cared for Evans's house and children. Brighton was formerly a deputy marshal in Arizona.

Gard arrived here at 3 o'clock this morning, and immediately he and Kay set to work to capture the desperadoes. When Evans saw the house entirely surrounded, he opened negotiations with Kay to surrender. Evans's son carrying the correspondence. Evans agreed to come out if Kay would disperse the crowd.

Mrs. Byrd, Evans's mother-in-law, says that he is crazy. Last night he threatened to kill his brother-in-law, George Byrd, and was only prevented by the old lady stepping between them. Mrs. Byrd says she would have come out of the house this morning, only that she was afraid Evans would kill her, as he threatened to do. Previous to the surrender, a young man named Beeson was employed by the Sheriff to take a note to Evans. Evans said to him when he entered: "Ain't you taking great chances? Now take these pistols and walk out ahead of us when we get ready to go."

Beeson was badly frightened. When Evans saw the armed men around the house and noticed that Brighton had not returned to the house, he attacked Mrs. Brighton, knocking her to go to bed and stay there. He was only prevented from killing the woman through the intervention of Morrell, who commanded him to desist. The woman was badly injured, and was in spasms for hours. She was badly bruised and she kicked her.

Last evening Evans told Mrs. Byrd that he would never be taken alive, when she reminded him that he was taking great chances in coming here. Evans abused the Byrd family generally, and said George gave away the fact he was going to escape from Fresno jail and caused him to be locked in a dark cell; that Perry Byrd had assisted in hunting him, and that the Byrds are a flock of buzzards.

Evans and Morrell, at the time of their surrender, had two Winchester rifles and a pistol and ammunition—forty-four cartridges. Evans gave a handful of cartridges to Marshal Gard, taking them out of his pocket. Marshal Gard says that the man who was arrested with Evans is Ed Martin, known here as Morrell, and says that he formerly ran a merry-go-round with one Frederick, who is accused of killing Sheriff Pascoe of Nevada county. Morrell assisted in stealing arms from a saloon in this city, and Fredericks took the arms to Folsom prison for George Sontag.

The bandits are worn out. The officers have kept them traveling and they had to find some place to rest, and they took that chance here. The citizens are very indignant at Evans for his treatment of Mrs. Brighton, and if the prisoners are not removed before morning they may be lynched.

S. J. Hinds, Evans's attorney at Fresno, came here on Saturday and his movements were watched. Mrs. Evans was expected here in a day or two by the officers. The officers are reticent as to the disposal of Evans at present, but it is supposed he will be spirited to Fresno tonight, where he will receive immediate sentence on his conviction, and then be hurried to the State Prison. Evans refuses to be interviewed, and abused the press representative roundly today. To all inquiries he simply says: "I'm as happy as a claim."

Morrell is more talkative, and tells his story of the recent encounter at Slick Rock.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT. The Arrival of the Officers Was a Surprise to the Bandits.

VISALIA, Feb. 19.—Visalia was thrown into a state of the greatest possible excitement when it was announced early this morning that the notorious bandit and his rescuer from jail, Morrell, were at the cottage of the former's family. Evans and Morrell, it was said, had been in the outskirts of the town, and that the premises were surrounded by officers prepared to prevent the escape of the two men. The news spread with lightning rapidity, and it was but a short time before the town was alive with all sorts of reports. Scores of people immediately made preparations to join in the capture and take part in a fight, if such a thing were to take place.

Volunteers were on hand by the hundred. It was not long before a large circle had been formed around the cottage. All sorts of men were on hand and all sorts of saddle-animals were pressed into service for the occasion. Such excitement was never before witnessed in Visalia, unless it was during the early adventures of the bold and fearless Evans and his partner, John Sontag.

Those who formed the cordon were armed with either rifles, shotguns or revolvers. Each one seemed ambitious to earn the honor of making the shot that would "put out the light" of the man who had killed a distance, and page in the annals of crime in California. But all who were out on the plain were not armed nor ready to stop the bandits should they break from their retreat and make another rush for liberty. Dozens were out to see the fight. They kept at a distance, and were anxious to see the battle fought. The great crowd was doomed to disappointment, so far as a fight was concerned, for there was no exchange of shots. Evans was not slow to realize the situation. The presence of the officers and armed citizens about the premises convinced him that the "big was up" that it was a case of peaceable surrender or a case of siege, to end only one way—his capture, dead or alive.

Some desperate men wanted to fire the building, but the officers in command would not allow such proceedings. Negotiations were opened for surrender. A message was sent to Evans, and an answer came back in the hands of one of his children. Other communications followed, and the result was final surrender.

When the little household was first made aware that the prisoners were surrounded, the greatest consternation prevailed inside. The women and children, it is said, were completely overcome with fear and apprehension. Evans was apparently unconcerned, it was learned a little later by the press correspondent. He treated the matter as the result of his own mistake. He was too bold in venturing to visit his family. But he wanted to see them for he has much paternal feeling, and the temptation was too great for him to resist. He had deliberately "come home, and the fact was made known to the officers.

When the house was surrounded, the question was first asked: "How shall we get away?" The proposition of capturing the desperadoes was made.

A DAY'S WORK.

Senator E. D. White

for Justice.

Cleveland Finally Gives Up

New Yorkers.

He Selects a Louisiana Man for Nomination.

The Senate Quickly Confirms the Choice—
Proceedings of Both Houses—The Missing Quorum—A Democratic Caucus.

By Telegram and the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The chief incident in the Senate occurred in executive session, and was the prompt action with which the Senate confirmed the Supreme Court nomination, without even referring it to a committee. It was fully in accordance with the traditional courtesy of the Senate that a member of that body, when nominated for a high public trust, shall be confirmed by reference to committee, but when contrasted with the stubborn and prolonged contests that have successfully taken place over the Hornblower and Peckham nominations, the prompt confirmation of Senator White of Louisiana to the Supreme bench came as a refreshing surprise to the public.

The haste of Senators to show courtesy to a colleague would not even permit Senator Daniel to finish his speech on the Hawaiian resolution. When Senator Caffery, the colleague of Senator White, appeared in the chamber from the lunch-room, he was apprised of the nomination of his colleague to be Justice of the Supreme Court, and Senator Daniel, after an interchange of glances with his fellow Senators, announced that he would conclude his speech at a later session, and Senator Caffery moved to proceed to executive business.

The doors were at once closed, but the representatives of the press on the outside needed no confidential message from the interior to apprise them. The proceedings were in marked contrast to the scenes and incidents that attended the last two Supreme Court nominations.

The opening session of the Senate was unusually devoid of interest. Senator Hale presented a resolution to investigate certain printing contracts, but the matter did not even create discussion, although the resolution was adopted.

Sensor Daniel opened his argument in support of the administration in the Hawaiian matter, and will conclude tomorrow.

The filibustering over the silver bill in the House continued until this afternoon, when adjournment was had to give the Democrats an opportunity to consider the situation in caucus.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS. REGULAR SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—SENATE.—Senator Hale of Maine presented a memorial from the citizens of that State against putting lumber on the free list. He asked that it be printed as a Senate document.

Senator Call presented a resolution calling for information from the President regarding the claim against the United States under the treaty of 1819, with Spain. The resolution went over.

Sensor Hale presented a resolution instructing the Committee on Printing to investigate the claim of the National Lithographic Company of Washington, for the publication of the Patent Office Gazette, it having been intimated that there were irregularities in the letting of the contracts.

The House bill limiting the indebtedness of Salt Lake City, Utah, has passed the Senate.

The Hawaiian resolution was called up, and Senator Daniels of Virginia spoke in support of it.

HOUSE.—The struggle to secure a quorum to order the previous question on Mr. Bland's motion to close the debate on the Silver Seigniorage bill was resumed today. After the opening of the debate Mr. Marsh of Illinois asked universal consent for his bill authorizing the construction of a wing-dam, canal and power station in the Des Moines rapids. The bill passed.

March 31 was made a special order for a tribute to the memory of the late Representative O'Neill of Pennsylvania.

The Committee on Invalid Pensions reported back favorably Mr. Towney's resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information regarding the suspended pension cases. It was passed.

Mr. Bland then moved to go into committee of the whole on the seigniorage bill and that the general debate be closed. On that he demanded the previous question. His Democratic and Republican opponents declined to vote and the result was, yeas 171 to nays 4, two short of a quorum. Bland then moved a call of the House.

Mr. De Armond of Missouri offered a resolution designed to prevent filibustering which was referred to the Committee on Rules. The resolution provides that when a member shall three times refuse to vote when his name is called he shall be brought before the bar of the House and his name called once more. If he still refrains from voting, he shall be held in contempt of the House and for each offense a fine of $50 shall be deducted from his salary by the sergeant-at-arms and be paid into the treasury.

A Violent Dead. GENOA, Feb. 19.—Ernest Camille Savor, the celebrated violinist, is dead.

A SURPRISE.

Senator White of Louisiana Nominated for

Supreme Court Justice.

By Telegram and the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator White of Louisiana has been nominated by the President for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The nomination was a complete surprise to every one. Senator Hill and the Republican members who have been questioned say little about the prospects of confirmation.

HE IS CONFIRMED. Later—Senator White has been confirmed as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

The President sent for Senator White and his colleague, Senator Caffery, last night, and upon their arrival at the White House made known the purpose of his invitation for a conference. Senator White, while expressing his deep sense of obligation, was much surprised and doubtful as to whether he should accept. He asked the President for time to consider and although he and his colleague remained with the President until late at night, he left without giving his assent. This morning, when he and Caffery again called at the Executive Mansion, he was still unable to say positively that he preferred the office to that of Senator, and it was not until the last minute before his departure that he gave assent.

The Louisiana delegation in Congress believe that Representative Blanchard will be appointed by Mr. Foster to fill the unexpired term of Senator White. Mr. White will take his seat on the Supreme bench as the youngest of the justices, and, with the exception of Field and Harlan, will have entered at an earlier period than any other justice since 1874. He was still unable to say positively that he preferred the office to that of Senator, and it was not until the last minute before his departure that he gave assent.

THE COURSE OF STORMS.

Now that the rain is holding off so long some people are again beginning to talk about a dry season, and the opinions of those who are able, from experience and observation, to throw some light on the subject, are eagerly sought. George H. Peck of El Monte has the following to say in regard to local storms in a circular which he has recently issued:

"The storms of the Northern and Eastern States in the Pacific. At least one-half of the storms beginning here go there. The proportion has been greater for two years or more, and the heavier and more terrible Eastern storms are what would be our southwesterly did they not go eastward. In Los Angeles county it has been very observable that (not mentioning lesser ones) the weather has larger nine to twelve or more years cycles. In the case of the storms may be said to have been normal or measurably regular, the southwesterly being frequent and in winter of course. The other three winter cycles have been abnormal, i. e. there has been a comparative absence of southwesterly, because they have gone east. This has so far from 1880-81, 1881-82, 1882-83, 1883-84, 1884-85, 1885-86, 1886-87, 1887-88, 1888-89, 1889-90, 1890-91, 1891-92, 1892-93, 1893-94, 1894-95, 1895-96, 1896-97, 1897-98, 1898-99, 1899-00, COURT RECORD.

MRS. PRATT DEAD.

The Mansfield Case in a New Phase.

What the Will of the Deceased May Contain.

Arthur Lewis Again on Trial in Department One.

The Anderson Divorce Case Once More in the Courts—Henry Demming Receives a Five Years' Sentence—Court Notes.

In the death of Mrs. Annie A. Pratt, which occurred at an early hour Sunday morning, the litigation stirred up in connection with the Mansfield promises to become more complicated than ever and to furnish subject for the Probate Court to busy itself with these coming many months.

When the County Clerk's office was opened yesterday morning, and almost before the news of Mrs. Pratt's death had been publicly announced, a document was found among the mail which proved to be an amended complaint from the San Francisco attorneys, signed by E. L. Campbell, guardian for the deceased, in which it was prayed that an accounting be required from Mansfield and his wife and Mrs. Cross, for moneys had and received belonging to the Pratt estate, and that the injunction be issued restraining the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank from paying out any of the cash on deposit to the account of Mrs. Mansfield until such an accounting be had, also for other forms of relief embodied in the previous complaints.

Now that Mrs. Pratt's life is ended, the controversy may take a slightly different phase, but from all that can be learned it will be none the less bitter. The deceased undoubtedly left a will, the contents of which are as yet unknown, for one day while sitting in the guardianship matter was in progress Mansfield exhibited a sealed packet, which he said contained such a document. Attorney Hanson at once asked the court to have the envelope opened, but Judge Clark did not think that he had any authority to grant the request, and Mansfield carried the papers away with him again. The supposition is that the bequest embodied in the will was favorable to the latter's cause. Further than this it is also believed that the will was executed several years ago and previous to the deceased's marriage. It is competent. This fact, however, will probably not make a contest less liable, for Mrs. Goodspeed, as an heir, can set up a claim to the estate. It may be that Mrs. Pratt also was incompetent at the time of the making of such will, and that she may have acted under undue influence. Should the will be found favorable to the other side, a more speedy ending of the trouble is prophesied. The document was not placed on record yesterday, but it is expected that it will be filed some time in the course of the week.

FOR EMBEZZLEMENT. Arthur Lewis was on trial yesterday in Department One on a charge of embezzlement. Lewis was formerly in the employ of the piano firm of Fisher & Boyd and while acting as salesman it is alleged he appropriated a sum of money to his own use instead of turning it in on the account of the customer. Lewis was first arrested and tried for obtaining money under false pretenses, but the evidence was such as to lead the court to instruct the jury to acquit, which was done. The second charge, that of embezzlement, was then preferred, and yesterday Lewis appeared in court yesterday, being represented by Attorneys Kinley and Edgerton.

ANDERSON VS. ANDERSON. The divorce case of Anderson vs. Anderson, which has formed a familiar title on the records of the Superior Court during the past three years, was revived yesterday by a new complaint being filed by the husband, C. C. Anderson, in which it is prayed that the latter's marriage with Margaret J. Anderson may be declared null and void and that he be given the custody of the two children. The Andersons are residents of Alhambra.

She Declined. "I have got a first-rate place for you," said the employment agent. "This woman who wants a cook used to be a hired girl herself, so there's no doubt but that she will be easy on you." "Easy on me?" screamed the applicant for a place. "Not much she would. Why she wouldn't do a thing but sit up of nights thinking out ways to get even on me for the way she was treated when she had to live out herself. You don't know much about women as a last year's bird's nest."

WELL! WELL! WELL!

We really had no idea what a lot of friends we possessed. We have been in this city a long time, never robbed a train nor stole a horse; always treated our patrons well; have always paid our debts dollar for dollar, and knew that we had many good wishers, but such hearty congratulations as have been extended to us in our new store, together with wishes of good luck, makes us feel as though our years of work have not been for naught. Our new neighbors have also been most friendly and bid us welcome. Everyone says the old adage "That the outside of a store is the index to the inside," is more than true in our case, for our store looks even better inside. Come in and see us, we have the most cheerful salesroom in the city, and we shall endeavor to have cheerful salespeople. Lots of bargains in our Boys' Department. Our combination offer of a Boys' All-wool Suit, extra pants and cap for $4, has caught on. We bought them to sell for $5, but now quote $4 as the price, just to boom our new store.

DR. WARNER'S CORALINE CORSETS.

Twenty-five styles, long waist, medium waist and short waist; perfect fitting; absolutely unbreakable. These Corsets have the largest sale of any ever made. Eight of the leading stores of Los Angeles sell these popular Corsets. This is conclusive evidence of their great merit. Ten Cases—making 250 dozen—3000 Corsets—have come into Los Angeles from Warner Bros.' factory during the month of January. These Corsets are great favorites with the ladies in every city of the United States, because they are perfect fitting and unbreakable. They challenge comparison. Guaranteed to be superior in shape and workmanship. Eight merchants of Los Angeles especially commend them to the ladies of Los Angeles and Southern California. The $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2 and $2.50 Corsets are admitted by competent judges to be the best value in the United States.

EVERY department throughout the house, has been greatly improved. Large lines of new goods have been placed on sale; trade is showing a rapid and wonderful improvement; new Dress Goods for spring; more elegant in style and lower in price than for years. We cultivate trade upon a basis of low prices—good durable goods, and keep each stock up to the fullest requirement. Last season we showed lines of dress goods at 50c a yard; this season the same quality at 35c. Last season we showed lines of dress goods at 75c; this season new and better styles for 50c. We have more than doubled the volume of goods in some of the departments, and in doing so have kept the prices down to catch the largest buying. We have avoided piling up goods—much preferring to keep the stocks active with clean, fresh, new styles, and always being the lowest in price. The handsomest, cleanest and best conducted dry goods house in the city. The largest and best Cloak Department; showing the new spring styles in both capes and jackets; a radical change from last season. The new styles will cost you no more than the old; take a look in upon our cloak stock; see the way the business is conducted, and you will not hesitate to give us your trade. One price to all; plain figures on every garment; money refunded on unsatisfactory purchases; places you upon the only legitimate plan for doing business. No urging, no importuning to buy, no fake methods are employed to gain trade by publishing statements that show upon their face their misleading character. When business will not come to our doors upon straight, legitimate methods, we do not want it. What is the result? This is one of the houses in the city where a good trade is always being done; where there is an increase; where business is increasing. The Royal Worcester Corset almost doubling sales over a year ago, and selling nothing in our Corset Department but Royal Worcester Corsets. The Domestic Department almost doubling sales over a year ago; showing the largest line of new goods by far we ever carried. Goods are very much lower than last season; styles newer and better in every way. You will notice quite an improvement in light and furnishings as soon as you enter the door. We study store attractions and aim to make the store attractive in itself. The clerks are on the alert; they wait upon trade with a cheerful feeling, knowing there is the utmost harmony between employer and employees, and that is the way for a business to succeed. We expect to do a very much larger business this year than last, and to do so will be on the alert to stimulate trade in every possible manner. Take a look today through our big Domestic Department.

LOS ANGELES, February 20, 1891.
The weather prediction for today is cloudy.

We have bought a lot of varnishes from a party that wanted to unload for cash. That means our price, and we will give you details tomorrow. They will be cheap enough. A good many folks came yesterday for Patton's paints at $1.50 per gallon. Some had used them when living east.

That was enough. "They are the best." Perhaps you think imitations of pure paints will do just as well—they won't, and they cost more money. "Don't play with fire."
